~ LEADING THE LEAN CHALLENGE ~

Eliminating waste and ensuring highly efficient processes are two ways that organizations can help support their continued viability and profitability. These efforts also go a long way to help improve quality, and enhance customer satisfaction. Leading the Lean Challenge can give your company insights on how to identify and eliminate the 9 forms of waste and effectively use well proven approaches like 5 S to reorganize work stations to improve productivity. We can also bring your company a pragmatic approach to process mapping to help identify efficiency opportunities. And, since implementing a lean program takes a special kind of leadership we address the changes required to empower employees and integrate a 'coach approach' into your leadership culture.
